Over the past years, Dezone has constructed a number of turnkey wastewater treatment plants. These projects range from very small wastewater treatment systems for small communities or industries to large municipal and industrial plants.